LOCAL NEWS.

CITY ALMS HOUSE.—ANNUAL VISIT.—It had grown to be a custom before the late war for the city authorities to make an annual visit to the Superintendent of the Poor's House for the purpose of examining into the condition of the institution, and of being eye-witnesses of the progress made during the year. This custom was re-inaugurated yesterday by the Mayor and quite a number of gentlemen connected with the City Council and other departments of the municipality. We found the visiting party, some twelve or fourteen in number, about noon, refreshing themselves in the portico, after their arrival from the city. They had taken an omnibus from town, and been warmly welcomed by Superintendent Stephenson, who was explaining to them the improvements effected during the short time since the institution has been restored to his management.

A large kitchen garden of several acres, now in a most flourishing condition—stocked with some of the finest vegetables we have seen this year, had been prepared from a waste ground, fences erected, beds laid out, and horticultural implements procured, within the few months past. It was explained that this garden enabled the Superintendent to avail himself of that species of labor which such institutions frequently furnish to infirm for a day's work, but ample to light jobs of a few hours' duration. The fields with a little additional labor have furnished hay enough to yield a handsome profit, and many of the visitors expressed the opinion that if some legal method could be devised by which the thrifless and vicious negroes, who fill the county jail could be sent here to labor for a season. In this way the enormous county levy might be largely diminished, and a party convicted of misdemeanor, instead of being released of being remanded to jail, and held there, boarding at an expense on the tax-payers of fifteen dollars a month might be put here to hard labor, and made to "earn his keep."

It was suggested, too, that if some of the unprofitable real estate of the city were sold, and the proceeds properly invested in land, a large farm might be carried on in this way. Some of the visitors then applied themselves to a more minute examination of the premises, and the experience thus acquired will doubtless prove of service in municipal legislation.

By invitation the visitors dined with the Superintendent.

"The feast was spread, the grace was said, And many a merry sentiment, And every time the Chairman spoke, Whether in earnest or in joke, There came responses eloquent."

The city finances, health, fire department, &c., were all discussed around the board, and all did ample justice to a good dinner.

The Mayor and a portion of the visitors accompanied by the Superintendent then visited the various apartments of the Institution, and conversed with the inmates. The building and its appointments were extremely clean, and the inmates apparently looked after with care. More than one instance came under the notice of the visitors to prove how much suffering the institution has prevented. In the lower stories where the colored people find shelter and food. One garrulous old lady of color informed the company that she "hadn't had her dinner yet," but that "spect it would come along arter awhile," and also, that "her missus used to gib her two pair of woolen stockings every winter, but she had give none this year."

The whole number of inmates now was stated to be fifty-five, including one person in the work house.

Before leaving the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That in the judgment of the visitors to the City Alms House, on the 4th of July, 1866, the grounds are in excellent order; the building clean and well kept; the inmates properly cared for; and in fine the whole management of the institution reflects great credit upon the Superintendent, John Stephenson, and proves him to be "the right man in the right place."

And after thanking Mr. Stephenson and his excellent lady for their attention and hospitality, the visitors returned to the city.

FOURTH OF JULY.—There was no public or general celebration of the day in this city. Business was, however, partially suspended, and most of the stores were closed. The vessels in port were decorated with flags, and the national flag was displayed upon several public buildings, and on the residences of a few of our most patriotic citizens. At night a large band fire of the hogsheads and barrels of another prominent patriotic citizen—taken, however, against his will—was kindled at the intersection of Prince and Fairfax streets, and quite a display of fire works was made in front of Mr. Frank Harrison's restaurant, on Prince street, and at various other points throughout the city. The reports of fire crackers and pistols were heard about the streets during the entire day. Potomac and Yeates' Gardens were open and thronged, and the balls at each were well attended and passed off quietly and pleasantly. The steamboat excursions down the river were numerous, and all were well patronized; and the Washington Ferry boats were crowded each trip. Many juvenile parties were formed, who spent the day at cool and shady retreats in the surrounding country.

COUNTY COURT.—Tuesday.—Com. vs. Thos. Curran, charged with burglary—remanded to jail to be indicted before the County Court for petit larceny.

Com. vs. Frank Hilson, charged with petit larceny—verdict guilty, and the term of his imprisonment fixed at 30 days in the county jail.

Com. vs. Wm. Allen, charged with petit larceny—verdict of guilty, and the term of his imprisonment fixed at 30 days in the county jail.

Com. vs. Catharine Sheridan, charged with assaulting Mrs. McSherry—verdict of not guilty, and the prisoner was discharged.

Wm. N. Price, confined in the jail of this county, in default of a recognizance to keep the peace, was ordered to be discharged from custody.

MARYLAND FERRY.—As will be seen by an advertisement in another column of the Gazette a meeting of the stockholders of the Alexandria and Maryland Ferry Company, will be held to-night, in the room over Witmer & Slaymaker's dry goods store, corner of King and Royal streets.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. Milton Glasgow, a conductor on the material train of the Orange & Alexandria Railroad, about nine o'clock, yesterday morning, at Madison Run Station, while jumping from the cow-catcher, to adjust a switch, slipped, and falling upon the track, one of his legs was run over and horribly crushed and mangled. He was carried to Gordonsville, four miles distant, when the mutilated leg was amputated, but where he died at a quarter before four o'clock in the evening. A committee of the Society of Rechabites, and of the Sun Fire Company, of which associations the deceased was a member, went up the road this morning to take charge of his remains, which will be brought to this city this evening, and received at the depot by the Sun Fire Company, placed upon the hose reel belonging to that Company, which has been transformed into a hearse, and after being borne to his late residence, where family and friends will join the procession, will be taken to the Methodist Protestant Church burial ground, and interred. Invitations have been extended to the other fire companies of the city to attend the funeral, which will be accepted.

FIRE.—On Tuesday afternoon, a fire broke out in Daniel Smith's planing mill and moulding factory, on Thirteenth street, near the canal in Washington, and the wind being from the south the flames spread rapidly to Wm. McLean's lumber yard, and though the alarm was quickly sounded and speedily responded to by the firemen, before they reached the spot the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the buildings, which, together with the machinery and a large quantity of choice lumber, with much new work, were destroyed. Part of the foundry of Wm. M. Ellis & Bro. was also destroyed. The loss, in all, is stated to be near $75,000.

As there appeared to be some difference of opinion as to the proper title of the Free School, in this city, originally endowed by Gen. Washington, the Board of Guardians, at a meeting, held yesterday afternoon, passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That the proper title of the school under our charge is "the Washington Free School of Alexandria," and that it be so, officially designated.

The inscription on the tablet in front of the building, is "Washington Lancasterian School, 1812," but the school being no longer conducted on the Lancasterian system, that word has become inappropriate and the word Free has been substituted.

GEORGETOWN COLLEGE.—The annual commencement of Georgetown College took place under the most pleasant circumstances, the weather proving propitious and all the arrangements necessary to insure success admirably perfected. The splendid Marine Band lentened the scene, and crowds of ladies graced the occasion. The prologue was pronounced by Mr. John T. Dekson, and the valedictory by Mr. Louis G. Gouley.

RETROCESSION.—The Loudoun Mirror says: "With a reckless disregard of the wishes of the people, Congress seems determined to deprive Virginia of the city of Alexandria by annulling the Act of Retrocession, and again attaching it to the District of Columbia." Notwithstanding all that has passed, we will not believe that this great outrage will be consummated. But everything possible should be done to prevent it.

STATE STUDENTS.—The faculty of the University of Virginia have made the following appointments as State Students to that institution from the designated Senatorial Districts of the State:

XIII.—A. E. Bloxton, of Stafford.
XIV.—Lawrence Alexander, of Fairfax.
XVI.—Joseph W. Brough, of Loudoun.
XVII.—James E. Stout, of Culpeper.

SUDDEN DEATH.—We regret to learn that Jacob Weaver, Esq., deputy sheriff of Fauquier county, Virginia, long and favorably known, in connection with the office he so well filled, died suddenly on Tuesday evening last, near Warrenton, from apoplexy. He leaves many friends to mourn his unexpected death.

CAPSIZE.—A sail boat, containing Robert Smith and William McQuinn, was capsized yesterday evening, off Fish Town. Its occupants clung to its sides however until assistance reached them from the shore.

ESCAPE FROM THE WORK HOUSE.—Henry McKinsie and another boy, confined in the Work House, escaped from that prison yesterday.

BALL.—There was a tremendous crowd at the Potomac Garden last night, and the ball there was kept up until a late hour.

POLICE REPORT.—MAYOR'S OFFICE.—Jas. M. Stewart, on two warrants, for selling dry goods without license, was, after obtaining a license, fined $10 and costs, and discharged.

The parties charged with embezzling about $150 from Mr. Edmund Hunt, were arrested on the Aquia Creek mail boat, by Capt. Walsh, of the Night Watch, and their trial, yesterday morning, resulted in the commitment of the principal for examination by the Court. The accomplice was held to bail in the sum of $250 for his appearance before the same court.

William Douglas and Samuel Henson, two negroes, for fighting yesterday evening, on Vinegar Hill, were appropriately fined and discharged.

Peter Worthington and Adam Mitchell, for fighting and disorderly conduct yesterday evening, at the Potomac Garden, were fined and discharged. These parties were minors, and the Mayor stated, when they were before him, that unless the proprietors of such places of public entertainment would prevent youngsters from frequenting their premises, he would present their names to the Grand Jury.

Mary Boulding, Susanna Boulding and Harriet Boulding, negroes, for disorderly conduct and obscene language, in New Town, near the Disposal Pump, were fined and discharged.

George Creveling, for keeping a dog without license, was discharged upon payment of fine and costs.

There were no cases worth reporting at the Magistrate's office.

The Charles-town Spirit of Jefferson, says that at the outset of the Confederacy, the present senator Willey, from West Virginia, "favored the cause of the South."

FIGHT AND A SPEECH.—Several flatboat engagements came off yesterday, in different parts of the city; and one individual was arrested for delivering an incoherent harangue from the City Hotel steps. He asserted that the late G. W. P. Custis had, prior to his death, commanded him to deliver a 4th of July oration in Alexandria, on each succeeding return of that anniversary, and that he was but obeying that command.

STATUE OF GENERAL WASHINGTON.—The statue of General Washington, removed from the Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, by Gen. Hunter, in his raid up the Valley of Virginia, arrived in this city yesterday from Baltimore, by the National Express Company, and will be forwarded by the same agency to-morrow, to Lynchburg, from whence it will be returned to Lexington.

HEN HOUSE ROBBED.—The hen house of Henry Middow, who lives on the corner of Columbus and Pine streets, was robbed on Tuesday night last of twenty-seven old chickens. The thief—for whose arrest a reward has been offered—obtained an entrance into the house by digging under the foundation from the outside.

BACKED OVERBOARD.—The ice wagon of M. Eldridge & Co., with the horse attached, was backed overboard from the wharf in front of their warehouse on Tuesday evening last. The horse, after being cut from his harness, escaped drowning by swimming around to the river shore. The wagon was also saved.

EXCURSION.—The Baptist Church Sunday School will make an excursion to Quantico to-morrow. See advertisement.

RAILROAD MATERIAL.—The railroad material, for the Washington and Annapolis Railroad, from the South, arrived yesterday in large quantities.

The Washington Republic says that there are various other things, such as Mr. Forney, besides the one to the President, just published, which want "ventilation."

A destructive fire occurred at Lynchburg, Va., on Tuesday morning, which destroyed a tobacco factory, (Kennier & Reynolds), an African Church, and some other buildings.
